LOG NOTE - Chief, Production Group - 15 April 1980

[] MUSLIM WORLD RECRUITING -- I went over to Chief, Recruitment Division's office this morning to review the first batch of responses to our newspaper ads for foreign language specialists. From a batch of approximately 25 letters and resumes, I rejected approximately 10 outright and asked Recruitment to send to us for further review 15 others. Included in the promising applications were a couple of Japanese prospects, one or two Russian prospects (including one who claimed Uzbek), one or two Bengali and Urdu applicants, two Turkish applicants and one or two Chinese. We will review these quickly as they are logged out to us by Recruitment Division in the next day or two. I told [] that we wanted to advertise in the New York TIMES and would give him instructions on this today.
